

30.04.20 REMEMBER TO TRY NOT TO PRINT OUT IF YOU CAN. 2 pages today

Check your emails daily

Wednesday's answers will be attached to your email today.

Thank you so much for being very independent today. I finished the school science award at 6pm! But I really appreciate you being so self-contained.

I will send you some instructions for origami cats, origami butterflies and origami rabbits on the end of your email today. You might want to have a go, just for fun!

MATHS

1. So today, your maths is just Doodlemaths and TTrackstars.
2. Then, I want you to go on Miss Bartlett's math's blog <https://westwoodblogs.net/maths/>
3. Play some games and answer 5 of the questions that are on there.

Need a new blue book?

They can be collected from the gazebo at school when you are out on your exercise.

ENGLISH

1. Lockdown diary entry:

Please unshare and re-share your work with me every time you finish a piece of writing. I will miss out putting comments on you work if I don't get an email that day saying that you have shared with me.

1 paragraph using 5 different pieces of punctuation.

This is about your experience of lockdown. Answer these questions in your paragraph (or more).

1. What did you do yesterday?
2. What are you going to do today?

2. Blog post Comments

Leave 5 comments on other people's blog posts, at least 25 words per comment and not copy and paste for the 5 comments that you need to do!

3. Write your recipe out on the blog.

1. Make sure that you set the recipe out like a recipe.
2. The ingredients are first, going down the page, in a list (; and ,)

3. Then numbered instructions.

Remember to send a photo of your baking!

If you have already cooked AND written your recipe up on the blog, then write up the NEXT thing you are going to bake!

Check for spellings, capital letters, full stops, sense.
