Dear Parents,

Your child will be bringing home a set of words today. These are words that they should become familiar with over time, leading to them eventually being able to sight-read them in their books. They will not be tested on these in school and they are for you to have at home to support your child on their reading journey.

You could play little games with them, have a "word of the week" that you are going to practise, play bingo - it is up to you how you use them.

Your child will be given a new set each month.

Thank you

Lisa Rosier
